

How to Feed Your Goat

By an eHow Contributing Writer

goat or herd thrives best on and the type of grass or hay your goat has available.

Difficulty: Moderately Easy

Instructions

Things You'll Need:

- Feed Bucket Holders
- Protein Grain Mixes For Goats
- Animal Water Buckets
- Hay Feeders
- Pet Collars
- Water
- Lead Ropes
- Salt Block Holders
- Water

1. Step 1

Feed a 14- to 16-percent protein grain mix.

2. Step 2

Provide hay for goats. Feed in a hanging hayrack or feeder to prevent goats from soiling hay.

3. Step 3

Provide a mineral mix or block.

4. Step 4

Feed goat in a feeder where goat cannot soil its feed.

5. Step 5

Feed goat once or twice a day depending on your schedule. A milking doe is milked twice a day, so she needs to be fed twice a day.
